

Welcome to Springfest!

Tonight's concert marks the first Springfest in three years! We are so happy to be back performing this year and with that so thankful for all of the students who are here tonight presenting their music. It really is a celebration and a testament to the power of music and the need for music in our collective lives.

The Tuesday concert celebrates music from our choral program, orchestra, wind ensemble and our chamber workshop in their premiere performance! We are also so proud of the concerto soloists and soloist / composer! Wednesday's concert will feature our jazz and rock ensembles and is sure to be an energetic evening showcasing student crafted arrangements and solos!

And so, as always, it is my sincere hope that you enjoy tonight's concert. Listening to music is a great joy. To make music is an even more remarkable experience. To share music with friends...well, that's just about the best.

Sincerely,

Todd R. Young
